2022 London Global Conference

Who are we?

New York State Bar Association and the International Section

The New York State Bar Association (NYSBA) is the largest voluntary state bar organization in the United States and has members across the globe that have a nexus to New York law.

The International Section is one of NYSBA's most active sections having over 1,500 members internationally with chapters in more than 70 countries worldwide and is NYSBA's global representative and international advocate for the rule of law.

In addition, the NYSBA International Section brings members together to discuss and influence the resolution of key legal practice issues before local, state, national and international policy makers. Members include legal professionals from major international law firms, multi-national corporations, and other organizations that influence, and are influenced by, international law.

What is the Global Conference?

Each year, NYSBA's International Section hosts a conference in a different city outside of the United States to provide American and foreign colleagues the opportunity to meet, network, and expand their international practices. Our most recent conferences have been held in New York City, Tokyo, Montréal, Antigua, Guatemala, Paris, São Paulo, Vienna, Hanoi, Lisbon, Panama, Sydney and the list goes on!

This year, the conference will consist of three days of Continuing Legal Education (CLE) panels and plenaries, including, various hot topics in international law. The meeting also offers networking opportunities in the form of extended breaks, luncheons, receptions, dinners, including our traditional gala dinner, and social and cultural events.

Panels 1 to 3

Track 1 – Assets	Track 2 – Arbitration	Track 3 – Anti-Corruption
PANEL 1 Great Hall Asset Tracing/Freezing: ‘Tracing the Untraceable’ 1.5 CLE credits in Areas of Professional Practice The Asset Tracing and Recovery Panel will discuss the latest developments in cross-border asset recovery, focusing in particular on fraud, cryptocurrency, enforcement, and discovery, as well as important differences among civil and common law jurisdictions in this practice area. Co-Chairs: Richard Abbey, Ernst & Young LLP, London, UK Gonzalo S. Zeballos, Baker & Hostetler LLP, New York, NY Panelists: Jorge Luis Arenales, Arias, Guatemala David de Ferrars, Taylor Wessing LLP, London, UK Oren Warshavsky, Baker & Hostetler LLP, New York, NY	PANEL 2 Churchill Room From The Ground Up – Taking A Pre-Emptive and Holistic View of International Arbitration Clauses in Order to Avoid the Pitfalls of International Arbitration 1.5 CLE credits in Skills Arbitration is an increasingly attractive dispute resolution mechanism for disputants worldwide. It has proven itself to be resilient to global shocks and, generally, a reliable mechanism. International arbitration is not without its risks when it comes to the conduct of international arbitration and the enforcement of awards. The problems often arise because of an incomplete or unclear arbitration agreement. Nonetheless, the risks and pitfalls can often be considered and mitigated by the parties to ensure that any arbitration – just like the transaction underlying the parties’ relationship – reflects the parties’ clear agreement. This panel will draw from a broad array of legal and business professionals to discuss the best approaches to negotiating, agreeing and drafting arbitration provisions. Recent case law will be discussed and considered to assist professionals in their assessment of arbitration for international matters.	PANEL 3 WGH Large Common Room The Role of Professional Service Providers in Enabling Corruption 1.5 CLE Credits in Skills The Russian invasion of Ukraine and attempt to impose sanctions on a wide range of individuals close to the Putin regime has shone a spotlight on the professional service providers in global financial centres who act for them. Some claim that such professionals, including lawyers, are enabling or facilitating kleptocracy and grand corruption through the provision of these services. Campaigners argue for tighter regulation and strong penalties; the legal profession cites the right to representation and the fact that the services being provided are within the law. This panel will explore navigating this minefield, and whether there’s a middle ground which respects long-standing legal principles of representation and defence, while slowing down the flow of facilitating services to those who are corrupt.

“S” IS THE ESSENCE OF ESG: Psychosocial Risks, Mental Health & Wellbeing at Work

There are some standards that are well established, but the “S” standards are still beyond the grasp of many organizations and arguable the foundation of accomplishing ESG standards that are transformative to create sustainable impact.

In this program we will provide an overview of the 3 elements of ESG with focus on the social element, provide recommendations and reasons why it is so important, how to create sustainable change by focusing on the psychosocial risks in your organization, what the advantages are of increasing ESG standards, and what still needs to be worked on in this area from a legal, social and business perspective.

Track 1 – Digital Assets

PANEL 10 | Churchill Room

Co-sponsored by the Task Force on Emerging Digital Finance and Currency

Digital Assets – Not A Virtual Reality Anymore?

1.5 CLE Credits in Areas of Professional Practice

This panel will discuss trends in legislation, regulation and structuring of digital assets in international markets, including multi-jurisdictional offerings and placements, custody, trading, AML, taxation, against the backdrop of recent regulatory pronouncements and actions in various countries. The panel will examine a range of issues including the effects of laws being issued in countries such as the United States, Switzerland and Brazil; Community directives under debate in Europe; the intense regulatory effort underway in the US; amongst others. Emphasis will also be given to the innovation and value creation side of this story, and how regulators are using regulatory sandboxes and laboratories to test and allow for legal experiments.

Co-Chairs:

Andrea Huber, Pestalozzi Attorneys at Law, Zurich, Switzerland

Dr. Carlos Mauricio S. Mirandola, CMSquare Ltda, São Paulo, Brazil

Panelists:

Ann Sofie Cloots, Cambridge University, Cambridge, UK

Panels 14 and 15

Track 1 – Art Law

PANEL 14 | Churchill Room

Art at War

1.5 CLE Credits in Areas of Professional Practice

The impetus for having this topic is the war in Ukraine. It is against that troubling background that the Conference will examine and discuss the various ways in which law intersects with war and armed conflict. This includes the legal framework of war; the functions of relevant international organizations and the role of the legal profession.

The panel will consist of legal experts and experts from academia and the public sphere. The Panel will look at ways in which a country might protect its works of art and cultural heritage in times of conflict; consider national and international legal frameworks relevant to the protection of art and cultural heritage; and look at the challenges inherent in enforcing legal rights in and to disputed works of art and cultural objects.

Track 2 – Employment Law

PANEL 15 | WGH Large Common Room

Is Remote Working Remotely Possible? The Impact of COVID on the Remote Working Legal Landscape: Practical Considerations

1.5 CLE credits in Areas of Professional Practice

Airbnb recently announced that its employees would be able to permanently work remotely without any pay cuts or caps on raises. This new policy embraces the new future of working remotely, allowing employees to work from anywhere, even while travelling in other countries. While more companies are being creative in balancing changing employee expectations with the desire to maintain efficiency and productivity, how many have fully grasped the legal and practical considerations of a fully remote workforce?

This panel seeks to explore the legal issues that arise from remote working arrangements and the potential legal risks of such fully remote or hybrid models of work. Employment law experts from a variety of jurisdictions compare how issues that arise from this are being approached in their respective jurisdictions, including:

There will be expert insight into UK government policy in relation to the protection of cultural heritage in the Iraq conflict and the ethical role of the military in preserving cultural objects in a conflict zone. The role of UNESCO and the Blue Shield will be explained and examined.

Co-Chairs:

Lucy Keane, Signature Litigation LLP, London, UK and Gibraltar

Rory J. Radding, Mauriel Kapouytian Woods LLP, New York, NY

Panelists:

Anne-Sophie Nardon, Avocate à la Cour, Borghese Associés, Paris, France

Prof. Peter Stone OBE, UNESCO Chair in Cultural Property, Protection and Peace; President of the Blue Shield, University of Newcastle, UK

Marco Toracca, Compliance Officer, Sotheby's, London, UK

- Secure transmission of proprietary information
- Impact of remotely working on independent contractor vs. employee status?
- Enforcement of non-compete covenants across borders
- Workmen compensation for remote workplace accidents
- Equal treatment of remote vs. on-site workers

At the end of this program, attendees should be able to:

- 1) Identify the unique challenges and strategies to maintain privacy and security of sensitive information
- 2) Describe the legal test in each jurisdiction when determining whether a remote worker is an independent contractor or an employee
- 3) Understand the complexities of enforcement surrounding non-compete covenants when employees cross borders
- 4) Understand liability for workmen compensation in remote workplace accidents
- 5) identify the risk of discrimination faced by remote workers and how to mitigate against such risks

DAY 3 - Friday, December 2, 2022

8:30 am – 5:00 pm Registration | Outside the Great Hall

9:00 am - 10:15 am PLENARY | Great Hall

Dealing with Crisis and External Threats: Recognize, Ready, Respond, Recovery

Despite the rise in the volume and impact of crises over the last few years, many organisations are still unaware of the true measure of crises that their business may face and how best to respond. The session will focus on the different categories of crisis that could occur and then explore how understanding and managing the crisis life cycle: recognize (detect), ready (prepare), respond and recover can help them to better manage crisis risk and strengthen their resilience.

Co-Chairs:

Jeffrey S. Sallet, Ernst & Young LLP, Boston, MA
Peter D.C. Mason, Arbitra International, New York, NY

Panelists:

Sebastian Mathews, EMEA, Cognito Media, London, UK
Pulina Whitaker, Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP, London, UK

10:15 am – 10:45 am Networking Break | LH Large Common Room

10:45 am–12:00 pm Panels 16 to 18

Track 1 – ESG	Track 2 – Arbitration	Track 3 – Market Manipulation
PANEL 16 Great Hall Managing “Behavioural Risk” in The Context of Corporate Culture and ESG 1.5 CLE Credits in Law Practice Management As investor interest in environmental, social and governance (ESG) considerations is on the rise, companies face the challenge of not only implementing a “good” corporate culture, but also demonstrating to regulators and investors how their culture aligns with their ESG goals. Investors aim to identify companies with better (or substandard) ethical cultures, and seek new sources of data for ESG aligned investing. The panelists will discuss how data and behavioral science-informed techniques can help improve corporate culture, and how innovations in culture assessment can help ESG investing.	PANEL 17 Churchill Room Court Orders for Oral Evidence and Disclosure by Non-Parties in Support of Foreign Arbitration Proceedings: The Changing Picture in England and the US 1.5 CLE Credits in Areas of Professional Practice Following the major decision of the US Supreme Court in Luxshare limiting the scope of 28 U.S.C. §1782, and the decision of the English Court of Appeals in A v C extending similar powers, the ability of litigants to obtain the aid of courts in England and America in taking evidence from non-parties in support of foreign arbitral proceedings has changed enormously in just a few years. Further changes may be on the horizon in England with the ongoing review of these powers by the Law Commission.	PANEL 18 WGH Large Common Room Market Manipulation 1.5 CLE Credits in Areas of Professional Practice “There is nothing new in Wall Street. Whatever happens in the stock market to-day has happened before and will happen again.” This panel will cover developments and lessons learned from market manipulation matters from LIBOR to precious metals. It will explore various types of market manipulation including spoofing/layering and benchmark manipulation, and touch on different aspects of those cases including how to establish intent, differentiating legitimate trading or hedging from manipulation, and estimating damages.

Co-Chairs: Prof. Azish E. Filabi, The American College of Maguire Center for Ethics in Financial Services, Associate Professor of Business Ethics, King of Prussia, PA, and New York, NY Amanda N. Raad, Ropes & Gray, London, UK Panelists: Laura Atherton, Global Health Unit, GSK, London, UK Rick Borges, Financial Services Culture Board, London, UK Alison Taylor, Ethical Systems, New York, NY	In an area which raises important questions about the interaction between arbitration and the courts, this panel draws together leading practitioners from both the US and the UK to discuss the recent developments in England and America, and the future scope of these powers on both sides of the Atlantic, including the future of §1782 type relief in federal courts. Co-Chairs: Teresa Rosen Peacocke, Outer Temple Chambers, London, UK and New York, NY Jonathan Schaffer-Goddard, Holwell Shuster & Goldberg, New York, NY; 4 Pump Court Chambers, London, UK Panelists: Richard Lissack KC, Fountain Court Chambers, London, UK Carlos Ramos-Mrosovsky, Baker & Hostetler LLP, New York, NY Prof. Linda J. Silberman, New York University, New York, NY Nigel Tozzi KC, 4 Pump Court Chambers, London, UK	Co-Chairs: Sean Lew, Cornerstone Research, New York, NY Yan Cao, Cornerstone Research, New York, NY Panelists: Susana Cao Miranda, Linklaters, London, UK Alexander Morris, King & Wood Mallesons, Sydney, Australia Matthew L. Mazur, Dechert LLP, London, UK Jonathan Carter, Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, New York, NY

Standing Fork Buffet Lunch | LH Large Common Room

1:30 pm - 2:45 pm

Panels 19 to 21

Track 1 – ESG	Track 2 – Arbitration	Track 3 – Market Manipulation
PANEL 19 Great Hall Sustainability and International Regulation 1.5 CLE Credits in Areas of Professional Practice This panel will address the different manner in which legal regimes are approaching ESG issues. For example, in the US sustainability is being approached as a financial disclosure issue, and initiatives by the US Securities & Exchange Commission seek to require even non-public companies to disclose their greenhouse gas emissions have been very controversial.	PANEL 20 Churchill Room Effective and Ethical Advocacy: A View from the Bench 1.5 CLE Credits in Skills When pleading a client’s case, counsel must often consider how to advance a position while respecting the ethical guidelines for effective advocacy. Join this panel of distinguished jurists to see how various approaches to advocacy are received by the bench and learn the best approaches for arguing on behalf of a client. Hear about different writing and argument styles, dealing with difficult opponents, and how to stay in the Court’s good graces by avoiding ethical and other pitfalls.	PANEL 21 WGH Large Common Room Show Me the Money: Asset Protection in High-Net-Worth Global Divorce Cases 1.5 CLE Credits in Areas of Professional Practice High-net-worth divorce clients tend to have assets located across the globe especially considering the rise of cross-cultural marriages. When the spouses seek to divorce, a court may have limitations on compelling information on overseas assets, valuing those assets, or mandating a disposition of those assets.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

New disclosure requirements will create new spheres of opportunity and risk, for both companies that report environmental impact as well as those that audit and certify that impact. Governance issues are also a global hot button concern, and not only present additional litigation and enforcement risks, but, in the era of viral social media, significant reputational risks as well.

The panel will discuss how different areas are addressing these issues, and the cross-border implications of these rapidly developing areas.

Co-Chairs:

Howard A. Fischer, Moses & Singer LLP, New York, NY

Katharina Wegmann, Ernst & Young LLP, Germany

Panelists:

Justine Cowling, Clyde & Co LLP, London, UK

Andrew Otis, Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel LLP, New York, NY

Sonali Siriwardena, Simmons & Simmons, London, UK

Co-Chairs:

Neil Quartaro, Cozen O'Connor, New York, NY

Andrew Spink KC, Outer Temple Chambers, London, UK

Panelists:

Hon. Loretta A. Preska, United States District Court, New York, NY

Mr. Justice David Barniville, President of the High Court, Ireland

The Rt. Hon. Dame Elizabeth Gloster, DBE, PC, One Essex Court, London, UK

Given that courts are limited in addressing division of marital assets located outside of its reach, it is important to work with high-net-worth clients at the time of marriage to employ an asset protection plan should a divorce be an eventuality.

Expert panelists will discuss the selection of marital property regimes and memorializing asset division in a valid and enforceable global prenuptial agreement. Panelists will discuss strategies to shield assets and employ sophisticated tax strategies. Panelists will also touch on topics of international evidence and discovery concerning international assets as well as various approaches in dividing international marital assets.

Co-Chairs:

Melissa A. Kucinski, MK Family Law, PLLC, Washington, D.C.

Richard Min, Green Kaminer Min & Rockmore LLP, New York, NY

Panelists:

Peter R. Stambleck, Mosberg Sharma Stambleck Gross LLP, New York, NY
